

Artist puts Bisley in the picture

WHEN Balmain artist Bronwyn Woodley-Graham was looking for a subject for an Archibald Prize painting, she didn't have to look far. Local actor and cafe owner Steve Bisley was right next door to her studio, and was more than happy to sit for this impressive portrait. The painting didn't win, but that couldn't spoil a ripper year for the artist, who will be exhibiting her works in the US this year. Full story page 8.